

PROFESSOR SIMON BRONITTResearch Profile

Simon is a Professor in the ANU College of Law and Director of the National Europe Centre, Research School of Humanities.

He is the convenor of the Military Discipline Law course taught at the ANU postgraduate program. His research interests in the field of military law include use of force and human rights, with a particular interest in the amendments to Part IIIAAA Defence Act 1903 (Cth).

He is the author of one of the leading criminal law textbooks in Australia, S Bronitt and B McSherry, Principles of Criminal Law (2nd ed, Sydney: LBC, 2005).

Publications and Papers and in the field of military law include:

Articles

- S Bronitt and D Stephens, "Flying Under the Radar' - The Use of Lethal Force Against Hijacked Aircraft: Recent Australian Developments" (2007) Oxford University Commonwealth Law Review December.
- Working Papers
- S Bronitt and S Hufnagel, "Comparative Perspectives on the Use of Lethal Force Against Hijacked Aircraft: Recent Developments in Europe and Australia" (October 30, 2007). Available at SSRN: <http://ssrn.com/abstract=1057841>
- Conference and Seminar Papers
- S Bronitt, 'Use of Force Against Hijacked Aircraft: The Relationship between Domestic and International Law', Frameworks for Strategic Leadership and Command Strategic Working Environment: Influence of Law, Ethics and the Media delivered at the Centre for Defence and Strategic Studies, Defence Force College, Weston, Canberra, 21 February 2008.
- S Bronitt, 'Reflections on the Use of Force and Preventative Policing', Community Policing in Three Dimensions ANU Canberra 12, 13 & 14 December 2007. Paper available at <http://s21.anu.edu.au/conference/index.php>
- S Bronitt, 'Keynote Speaker: The Use of Military Force Against Hijacked Aircraft: Recent Developments in Australia and Europe. Counter Terrorism International Conference 2007, 15–16 October 2007 <http://www.ctic2007.com/>
- S Bronitt, 'The Limits of Necessity: Part IIIAAA, Defence Act 1903 (Cth)', invited address at the Navy Legal Conference HMAS Cairns 20-21 September 2007.
- S Bronitt, '9/11: Six Years On' Cultures Of Human Rights Network @ ANU (CHuRN) Annual Public Lecture Series (11/9/07)
URL http://law.anu.edu.au/nissl/churn_sem07.pdf