

CIPL Seminar

The case of Dr Haneef

Thursday, 30 August 2007, 5.30-7pm

Sparke Helmore Theatre 2

ANU College of Law, Cnr Fellows and East Roads, The ANU

RSVP to: E: cipl@law.anu.edu.au by Wednesday 29 August 2007

The decision of Spender J in the Federal Court of Australia Haneef v Minister for Immigration and Citizenship [2007] FCA 1273, handed down on the 21 August 2007, reviewing the decision of the Immigration Minister to cancel the work visa of Indian doctor Mohammed Haneef raises significant legal issues that will be examined in this important seminar.

SPEAKERS:

Jennifer Clarke

ANU College of Law: Putting work visas in context

Michael Smith

Barrister and international lawyer: The criminal law interface

Sue Tongue

Former Principal Member, MRT, ANU College of Law: The character test in Migration law

James Jupp

Director of the Centre for Immigration and Multicultural Studies: The Kafkaesque nature of the Haneef matter

CHAIR:

Kim Rubenstein

Professor and Director of the Centre for International & Public Law

There will be an opportunity for discussion after the presentations of the speakers.