

A Constitution for all Australians – the Top End experience

Be part of a thought-provoking discussion with some of Australia's leading commentators. This free forum will explore what the Constitution means for the Northern Territory.

Thursday 30 June 2011, 5.30–7.30pm
Nitmiluk Lounge and Dining Room
Parliament House, Mitchell Street, Darwin

Recorded by ABC Radio National for broadcast on Big Ideas on Sunday 10 July at 5pm.

Refreshments served before the forum from 5.30pm.

Free event, bookings essential.
Email darwinevents@naa.gov.au
or phone (08) 8985 0300

CONSTITUTION
DAY 2011

The Hon Jane Aagaard MLA, Speaker of the Northern Territory Legislative Assembly and Chair of the NT Constitutional Convention Committee – Grace and Favour State

Professor Mick Dodson AM, member of the Yawuru people, and Director of the National Centre for Indigenous Studies and Professor of Law at the Australian National University – Implications for the Recognition of Aborigines and Torres Strait Islanders in the Federal Constitution

Marshall Perron, Northern Territory Chief Minister 1988–95 – The Leftover Area: Constitutional Misfit

Ken Parish, legal academic at Charles Darwin University and former Member of the Northern Territory Legislative Assembly 1991–94 – Northern Territory: 'State' of Ambivalence

Damien Carrick, host of ABC Radio National's The Law Report – moderator

Media partner

ABC
Radio National
abc.net.au/rn

Australian Government

NATIONAL ARCHIVES
OF AUSTRALIA

Your story, our history

Constitution Day 2011 Speakers Forum