

Many reasons to celebrate – Law Graduation December 2005

The ANU Law School would like to congratulate all its graduates who were awarded their degrees at the ANU Conferring Ceremony on 15 December. In total 142 law students received their awards, two of which were PhD students.

Special congratulations go to Robin MacNamee, Master of Laws graduate and Legal Research Officer at the National Centre for Indigenous Studies (NCIS). Robin graduated under exceptional circumstances (please see article in OnCampus).

Professor Phillipa Weeks, esteemed colleague of the Law School, received the Chancellor's Medal for Outstanding Service to the Campus Community. Phillipa is an ANU law graduate, and has been teaching at the Law School since 1979.

The guest speaker for the Law Conferring Ceremony was Ms Anna Funder, Melbourne Arts and Law graduate from the late 1980s and renowned author of the award-winning book Stasiland.

Above: Staff of the Law School with Professor Phillipa Weeks (front row, second from the left), recipient of the Chancellor's Medal for Outstanding Service to the Campus Community.