

On March 9th you can watch your fellow students competing and negotiating live at <http://jura.ku.dk/english/>

Global Climate Changes – Global Competition - Protocol on Climate Change

The University of Copenhagen is proud to present one of its many student activities in the run-up to the UN Conference on Climate Change, COP15. The event takes place in Copenhagen, Denmark, in November 2009, and the replacement protocol for Kyoto will be negotiated.

The Faculty of Law hosts an international negotiation competition, "The Copenhagen Competition," which is a competition that gives law students from all over the world a chance to negotiate the Copenhagen Protocol before the "real" COP15 takes place.

It has been a very close race. All submissions have been of high quality, both realistic and innovative.

Blog with the Danish team of law students in Copenhagen Competition at <http://yggdrasil.blogs.ku.dk/>

<http://jura.ku.dk/english/copenhagencompetition/>