

NEWS

ANU College of Law staff receive Vice-Chancellor's Awards

The annual Vice Chancellor's Awards for Excellence ceremony was held at University House on Thursday 13 November 2008. All nominees from the ANU College of Law received awards, recognising their contribution to the University.

Vice-Chancellor's Award for Innovation and Excellence in Service Quality

ANU College of Law IT & C Unit

Congratulations to Phil Drury, Alan Lew, Ricky Vuckovic, Andrew Vella, Fiona Bush and Adam Geddes. The IT&C Unit team has pioneered a standard of quality IT service that is held in the highest regard across the campus. The Team not only expertly maintains and upgrades our existing systems but is continually looking ahead and considering future IT opportunities to assist all staff of the College.

From the left: Richard Vuckovic, Alan Lew, Andrew Vella, Adam Geddes, Phil Drury, Fiona Bush and Vice-Chancellor, Professor Ian Chubb.

The Vice-Chancellor's Award for Community Outreach

Congratulations to Professor Don Rothwell and Professor Kent Anderson for this recognition of their extensive work in the community.

Professor Don Rothwell

Don Rothwell's skill in harnessing the power of the media to communicate his expertise and knowledge on critical contemporary problems in international law is exceptional. His outreach work has brought ANU expertise in these matters to world-wide attention. His views and opinions are sought out by decision-makers and commentators and he influences public debate.

From the left: Professor Don Rothwell with Professor Ian Chubb

ANU COLLEGE OF LAW NEWS

Professor Kent Anderson

While holding dual appointments in the College of Law and the College of Asia and the Pacific Kent Anderson has developed outreach work that is held in the highest regard by Japanese law professors from Japan's top-ranking universities. Through this work he has opened up new and exciting learning pathways for ANU Law students yielding both educational and professional benefits for those students.

Right: Professor Kent Anderson with Professor Ian Chubb

25-Year Service Medallion

Congratulations to Professor Robin Creyke and Professor John McMillan for each receiving a medal in recognition of their continuous service to the University over 25 years.

Bottom left: Professor Kent Anderson with Professor Ian Chubb
Bottom right: Professor John McMillan with Professor Ian Chubb

