Latest Updates

October 2012

This tab has been added in October and will be updated monthly with the latest information on the ANU Email Project.

Update on college migration

The ANU Email migration process has begun with approximately 250 users from Scholarly Information Services / Library and DRSS divisions migrated onto the Exchange 2010 (UDS) platform. This is an important step in the process that is key to migrating onto Office 365. Staff from Facilities & Services (F&S), Finance & Business Systems (F&BS) and Human Resources (HR) have been engaged and the user discovery process has begun with these areas. In addition, the following Office 365 migrations have occurred:

- Pilot group of 14 Facilities & Services Division
- Test users from Finance & Business Services and Human Resources.

Students—migration happening soon

New students commencing in 2013 will be automatically set up on Microsoft Office 365. Existing and continuing students will be contacted during December 2012 and January 2013 for details on when and how the migration will take place.

New tabs on this web page

A new tab has been added to the ANU Email webpages, including the latest updates, and Migration Details – for information regarding what to do pre migration. And the Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) tab includes new information.

New Project Manager on Project

IT Services welcome Helena Chan to the ANU Email Project from October onwards. Helena will be joining IT Services taking on the role of Project Manager, which Behzad Emami has been undertaking in the interim. Thank you to Behzad for his in-depth work on this project to date.
