The Program
Starting on Sunday 18 January 2015, 20 law students from the ANU College of Law and other Australian law schools, will undertake an intensive 3-week course in Geneva. The Summer/Winter in Geneva (SWinG) program will focus especially on the work of those international organisations located in Geneva, site of the European headquarters of the United Nations.

Particular attention will be paid in this context to various aspects of International Human Rights, to International Trade and Environmental Law, and a number of other specialised areas of International Law - given the location in Geneva of inter alia the WTO, the OHCHR, UNHCR, WHO, the ILO and the ICRC.

Studies in 2015
The course will be convened by Dr Sarah Heathcote and will be comprised of at least 50 hours of class time.

Most of the classes will be conducted on the premises of various international organisations (UN bodies, specialised agencies and NGOs) visited in the course of the Program. In most cases these presentations will be conducted by lawyers working in the organisation. In addition to contributions by Dr Heathcote, some of the classes may be conducted by Geneva-based academics and by officials in international organisations, with academic experience.

All classes and visits will be conducted in English; knowledge of French is therefore not required. Assessment for the course will take the form of an essay on an approved topic, to be completed by the participants early in First Semester 2015, following their return to Australia.
Travel

Participants are expected to make their own individual transportation arrangements to and from Geneva. You must arrive in Geneva no later than Saturday 17 January 2015 (the Program formally starts on Sunday 18 January 2015) – though you are strongly advised to try and arrive in Europe several days earlier to enable you to get over the jet lag in time for the start of formal classes.

All classes and visits will, as far as possible, be arranged over a 4 day period in each of the 3 weeks of the program, enabling participants to take advantage of extended weekends to explore Geneva and the historically interesting areas surrounding the lake. Geneva, furthermore, is one of the most central locations in Europe with cheap, fast rail connections to France, Italy and a number of other European destinations. Participants will be responsible for the cost of any additional travel they may decide to undertake.

The Program will finish on Friday 6 February 2015 and students will have to check out of the hotel on Saturday 7 February 2015.

Accommodation & Expenses

To enable the program to run smoothly in light of likely last minute changes in schedule and public transport arrangements, participants will be housed in a centrally located 3½ star Geneva hotel, just meters from the Palais Wilson (original headquarters of the League of Nations, and currently housing the offices of the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights). Most international organisations, the railway station, and the town centre with the vieille ville (old town) are within easy walking distance or at worst only a couple of tram stops away. The hotel was extensively renovated in early 2001, with further renovations in 2008.

Accommodation will be in large, double occupancy bedrooms, each with attached private bathroom, kitchenette and full facilities (telephone, TV, fridge, etc). Some participants may be allocated single rooms depending on the gender mix within the group. Specific room types cannot be requested. Buffet breakfast is included. There is no restaurant in the hotel for lunch or dinner. Participants will be responsible for any additional hotel costs (eg. telephone, laundry, etc), and for their own living expenses in Geneva (see estimate below). The hotel now provides a free wireless HotSpot connection through Swisscom, but there are no printing facilities. Course materials and overheads will be supplied on USB drive, and students are therefore expected to have their own laptop or similar device that can access PDF files from a USB drive. Remember an international adaptor for your charger.

An accommodation fee of A$1,900 (non-refundable) will be payable directly to the ANU College of Law. Please note that this is a special group rate and represents a substantial savings on the hotel’s best available individual rates.

Administration Fee

All participants will be required to pay an Administrative Fee of A$100 (non-refundable) directly to the Law School, to cover a number of program expenses (including course materials, opening dinner, UN visit fee, etc.).

Selection Criteria

1. Participation in the program is restricted to LLB, LLB/combined degree or JD students, and students undertaking a graduate course of study specializing in international law.
2. Only applicants who have completed at least a semester-length general International Law course will be considered.
3. 15 of the 20 places in the program are initially reserved for ANU students; the remaining 5 places will be available to both ANU and non-ANU students.
4. Priority will be given to later year LLB, LLB/combined degree or JD students (ie students who have less than 12 semester-length courses [law and/or non-law] left to complete after the end of the current academic year).
5. Preference will be given to students who have completed additional international law electives.
6. Additionally, academic merit and chronology (the order in which applications are received) will be taken into account in selecting applicants.

IMPORTANT NOTE ON TRAVEL INSURANCE:

The attention of participants is drawn to the limitations in travel and medical insurance cover provided by the university (full details are provided in the “terms and conditions”). The cost of any private travel/medical insurance to complement the university insurance for periods not covered by it has not been included in the cost estimates above.

NON-ANU (CROSS-INSTITUTIONAL) STUDENTS:

Please note that as a cross-institutional student you will NOT be covered by the ANU insurance cover; accordingly you will need to take out private travel insurance for the entire duration of your trip and add the resulting additional cost to the estimates provided above.

PLEASE SEE INSURANCE INFORMATION IN ‘TERMS AND CONDITIONS’.

(*2014 fees)

Please note that all JD students will be enrolled in LAWS2258 (the LLB version of the course) and that this course will therefore not count towards the required two postgraduate courses of that program.

Accommodation (payable to the Law School):

All students: A $400 non-refundable accommodation deposit will be due no later than Friday 11 July 2014. A second payment of $750 will be due on Monday 22 September 2014. The balance of the accommodation cost ($750) will be payable on Monday 20 October 2014.

Accommodation costs are based on double share. Some participants may be accommodated in single rooms, depending on the gender composition of the group. All rooms include a kitchenette and en-suite bathroom. Please note that we cannot as a general rule accommodate specific requests for single rooms.

The accommodation includes buffet breakfast (continental).

It is imperative that participants arrive in Geneva by Saturday 17 January 2015 at the latest. As accommodation is booked as a group, students will be charged accommodation costs from 17 January to 7 February (inclusive), irrespective of individual arrival or departure dates, or of absences from Geneva in the course of the program (e.g. travelling on week-ends). Check out date is Saturday 7 February 2015.

Accommodation at the hotel may be available prior to 17 January or beyond 7 February, but must be arranged separately through direct arrangement between the student and the hotel. It will not be included in the pre-paid accommodation fee, and is likely to be substantially more expensive (as group accommodation rates are based on discounted double share).

A Youth Hostel is situated right next to the hotel’s back entrance at 28 rue Rothschild, and is likely to provide cheaper accommodation before and after the program dates.

Participants will be responsible for any additional hotel costs they may incur (e.g. telephone, drinks, laundry, accommodation outside the program dates).
Airfares:
Students are responsible for their own travel arrangements. The lowest airfare included in the sample budget is based on low-season discounts.

Additional Expenses:
The sample budget set out on the information leaflet is for information purposes only, and based on the best information currently available. It does not include additional (personal) expenses or additional travel insurance.

Participants will in particular be responsible for the cost of any additional travel they may decide to undertake before, after or during the program.

Materials:
Course materials and overheads will be supplied on USB drive, and students are expected to have their own laptop or similar device that can access PDF files from a USB drive.

Enrolment:
Please note that application for the course and acceptance of a place in the program DOES NOT enrol the student in the course. Students should enrol in the summer course via the Law School Office after they have been accepted in the program, and once summer school enrolment has opened.

Insurance:
ANU students will be insured by ANU Insurance for the duration of the program (17 January 2015 to 7 February 2015) AS WELL AS for 5 days prior to the start date and 5 days after the end date of the program. If your travel extend beyond this period (or you are a non-ANU student) you will need to purchase additional insurance at your own expense.

Separate insurance cover for the periods NOT covered by ANU Insurance as outlined above can be purchased on-line at www.mondial-assistance.com.au or www.aon.com.au or your own travel insurance provider.

To be covered by ANU Insurance you will need to do the following:

   Please ensure that the start and finish dates do not exceed ANU Insurance cover period. Additional insurance will need to be purchased for additional travel.

I agree with the Program Terms and Conditions as set out above.
